MORNINGTON GREEN

Living Legacy Gardens

Where Love Lives on Through Nature

More Than a Resting Place. A Living Memory.

Mornington Green isn't a graveyard or an urn on a shelf. It's a living memorial where ashes become trees, growing side by side so no one rests alone. Families come here to walk through the young forest and spend time at their loved one's tree. It's a peaceful place where memories grow and love lives on through vibrant, living trees.

Every tree planted here becomes part of a living ecosystem that gives back to future generations and reminds us that love never dies.

Return to Earth and Live on Through Nature.

Mornington Green is where ashes become Living Legacy Memorial Trees.

Plan your own peaceful legacy or choose a resting place for a loved one's ashes.

Create a memorial that grows with your family and gives back to the earth for generations to come.

"I could not imagine going to a cemetery with a plaque on the ground to visit my son. Here, I can come with my chair, book, and coffee, and just sit and read. I do it every week."

- Wendy

How It Works

Imagine a place where ashes don't collect dust, but live on through nature.

It's as simple as four gentle steps.

Step 1: Tour the Gardens

Whether you're planning ahead or choosing a tree for a loved one today, this is where we start.

Our Legacy Planners help you find your perfect tree. Take a walk through the Living Legacy Gardens on a private tour, or come to an open day, or browse the tree guide at the back of this brochure or speak with a Legacy Planner today.

Step 2: Choose Your Tree

Your tree, already well established at 1 to 4 metres tall, is planted by our horticulture team.
It joins a Living Legacy Garden community, bringing peace and connection for everyone who visits.

Step 3: Create a Meaningful Memorial - When the time comes.

The ashes are carefully prepared using a special Living Legacy formula. This makes them safe for the soil and helps your tree absorb the nutrients from the ashes. Family and friends gather for a memorial service when the ashes are infused. Multiple ashes can be added over time to create family trees.

Step 4: Visit and Remember

Your tree keeps growing, nourished by the ashes and cared for by our specialised team. Family and friends can visit for years to come. As it grows with the garden, people draw strength and renewal, turning their grief into personal growth and creating a lasting legacy of healing for future generations.

Why Thousands of Families are Trusting Us

Mornington Green is a final resting place of peace and natural beauty.

A living memorial garden, young and growing. A place where families tell us there's a sense of calm, that they can't find with conventional options.

It's serene gardens remind us that life continues. Visiting your loved one here, or choosing it as your own resting place, is something many find as a source of comfort and solace among the tranquil trees.

Here's why so many people choose a Living Legacy Tree at Mornington Green

"It's wonderful, it's Rex's choice. It's lovely to see the tree growing. I can see Rex in it, helping it to grow. Makes me feel warm and good that he is part of the world he loves so much."

- Eve Burchell PRE-PLANTED with Her Husband Rex

The Future

Mornington Green is Australia's first Living Legacy Garden of its kind - and it's only the beginning. Our vision is to grow and protect this peaceful garden as the trees mature, creating a place families can visit long into the future. By choosing Mornington Green, you become part of creating beautiful gardens that give back to the earth, transforming grief into growth for yourself and your loved ones - now and for generations to come.

More than a final resting place, it's a living legacy. Here, your memory is rooted in a protected natural space that grows, changes, and endures. Each memorial tree becomes a natural connection between generations - a gift to the future that offers beauty, reflection, and renewal for those who come after.

These Living Legacy Gardens showcase serene groves of signature trees linked by open paths and lawns. Chosen for beauty, climate suitability, and longevity, they offer an immersive experience, maintained by expert care.

Your tree grows among others in a protected, living garden - a space where no one rests alone. Here, friends, families & communities stay connected, finding comfort, healing, and growth through nature's cycles. Season after season, it's a place that gives back - to the earth, and to those left behind.

Heartfelt Stories of Legacy Planters

ones back home in Leipzig around the fountain. He got one right next to the lake at Mornington Green. Had the most fantastic experience. Staff go above and beyond and are so amazing. It's such a joyful place. I'm so happy this was an option instead of a cemetery because I can see happy memories being made here."

"Infusing my dog Nina's ashes into my pre-planted tree at Mornington Green was a beautiful experience. It's comforting to know we'll be reunited there one day. I'm grateful they understand pets are family too. It's a living memorial that brings peace to our whole family."

- Liliana Slater

A LIVING LEGACY

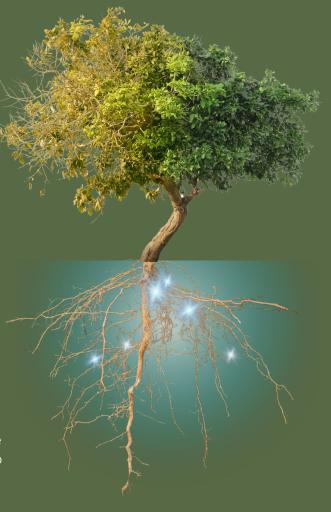

The Science that Makes It Possible

The ashes you receive from the crematorium can't help a tree grow. In fact, they're harmful to the soil. Did you know that human ash has the same pH as bleach and very high levels of salt?

At Mornington Green we are proud to partner with Living Legacy Trees, whose patented formula gently transforms ashes into safe nutrients for the tree.

The Living Legacy Formula neutralises harmful elements so the nutrients feed the tree from root to branch to leaf.

This means your ashes aren't just scattered. They are absorbed into the tree itself. transforming death into life using nature.

The scientifically-backed process ensures that memorial trees dont just survive, but flourish, live on and pass that life on the next life. We make heritage through this.

Scientist of The Living Legacy Ash Treatment Formula

How the Living Legacy Formula Works

SAFE FOR THE EARTH

Untreated ashes harm the soil. The Living Legacy Formula removes the harmful components.

BECOMES PART OF THE TREE

The nutrients are absorbed from the roots so they travel through every part of the tree.

NOURISHES NEW LIFE

The Living Legacy Formula leaves the ashes nutrient rich so they feed the tree and help it grow.

KEEPS GIVING BACK

Your tree grows stronger year after year, helping the forest and land thrive for generations.

Common Questions, Honest Answers

Do you handle cremations?

No. We work alongside your chosen crematorium. Once you have the ashes, we guide you through the next steps.

What does it cost?

Prices start from $8000 with payment plans available. There are no hidden fees or ongoing costs, just one clear amount for your tree, memorial, catered life celebration and all inclusions.

How are the trees protected?

Mornington Green has a council permit. Your tree is protected by strong legal and financial structures, plus 20% of all tree sales go into a trust for ongoing care and maintenance.

What happens if a tree dies?

Our location is chosen for its excellent growing conditions and low risk for fire, flood or drought. On the rare occasion a tree needs replacing, it's at no extra cost. Where possible, we also mulch the wood from the original tree to return the energy to the forest.

Do you cater for pets?

Absolutely! Pets are family too. You can choose to have your pet's ashes infused into your own tree (an option chosen by many pre-planners), or select a dedicated memorial in our peaceful Pet Garden. Your Legacy Planner can guide you through the best option for your family.
